The signs are all there: sneezing, aching, fever, chills. Yes, Katie Woo has the flu. As a result, she is stuck in bed with boring soup and toast—but, luckily, after bed rest and phone calls from her friends, she soon feels “like a new Katie Woo!” With three distinct chapters, a large typeface, and cheery illustrations, the latest offering in this early chapter book series will delight beginning readers. Fun related back matter, including a recipe for Bugs on a Log (not to be confused with the flu bug) and activities (like making a get-well card), rounds out the title. My daughter loves these books

This series was introduced by the school librarian. My girls all checked out the books. They are a high first grade to mid second grade level. My girls are asking me to buy more of this series!

I loved this book because I love it when people go to the doctor because I want to be a doctor.

It had a lot more wear and damage than was described.

Perfect condition. Daughter loves this one.
