She resides (that's fancy for lives) with her family in New York City. Robin Preiss Glasser actually wore tiaras and tutus when she danced with the Pennsylvania Ballet. Now she happily spends her days in jeans, drawing. She has illustrated many acclaimed picture books, including the bestselling Fancy Nancy series. She won the Children's Choice Award for Best Illustrator of the Year for Fancy Nancy and the Mermaid Ballet. Robin and her family live in Southern California.

I love the Fancy Nancy series. The colors, "fancy" vocabulary, and flip books are great for kids. This is a cute story showing how JoJo prepares the night before school and the hesitation the morning of. It doesn't show her actual first day of school, it stops at the car ride to school. Cute story, you can tie in into feelings and emotions.

I love all the Fancy Nancy books...Great illustrations, darling vocabulary with the opportunity for a small child to enhance their own vocabulary and always a good little lesson at the end.

Love to share these books with my Grand Daughter!

I bought this for my sister when she was starting kindergarten and it made her feel a lot better about starting school.

JoJo's first day Jitters is perfect to read to the little girls going to school for the first day.....

My granddaughters have quite a few of these books and this one is in their current night time rotation. They love it. Thanks, Jane O'Connor for another great story!

Great for beginning preschoolers or siblings. Pretty illustrations. Good message

Good book for the first of school to help children identify and face their fears. It is a good teacher tool.
