Customer Reviews

BARBARA KRAMER began writing biographies for children and young adults after following the advice of another author who said, "Write what you like to read." She remembered how much she enjoyed biographies when she was a kid, especially stories about trailblazers such as Davy Crockett, Daniel Boone, and Elizabeth Blackwell and decided that's what she wanted to write. Her subjects have included both historical figures and people in the news.

Good book to read and educational. Bought I for my son in 1st grade.

National Geographic is a great series. My son loves to learn about inventors this is a good book and good to practice reading skills by reading what you love.

Great book full of information for young kids to understand

These National Geographic books for kids are awesome. Nice color illustrations, nice nonfiction organizing touches, and good information presented in an interesting way. I use these a lot for tutoring.

Very nice introduction to Edison. Perfect for my 7 year old grandson

My son is very into science, and thought this book was cool!

This book was fun to read with my grandkids. It was easy to understand.

I used this in my classroom and found it just what I wanted.
