Zero Limits: The Secret Hawaiian System For Wealth, Health, Peace, And More (Your Coach In A Box)

Synopsis

Zero Limits reveals the breakthrough self-improvement approach that is proven to help people who are overworked, overstressed, and just plain overwhelmed deal effectively with removing self-imposed limitations in their lives that are often manifest as chaos, disease, and poverty. Joe Vitale was once homeless. Now, he's the millionaire author of numerous bestselling books, an Internet celebrity, and an in-demand online marketing guru. What did he do to create all of that success? Was it hard work, divine providence, or both? The answer is surprising. It wasn't until he discovered the ancient Hawaiian Ho'oponopono system that he finally found truly unlimited success. Updated for modern times, Ho'oponopono is a self-help methodology that removes the mental obstacles that block a listener's path, freeing his mind to find new and unexpected ways to get what he wants out of life. It works wonders both professionally and personally. It works so well in fact, that Vitale had to share it with the world, so that others could experience the fulfillment and happiness he feels every day. Teaming up with Dr. Ihaleakala Hew Len, master teacher of modern Ho'oponopono, Vitale tells the listener how to attain wealth, health, peace, and happiness. They walk him through the system, helping him clear his mind of subconscious blocks so that destiny and desire can take over and help him get what he truly wants from life. It clears out unconsciously accepted beliefs, thoughts, and memories that he doesn't even know are holding him back.

I know, unequivocally, I was supposed to come to know ho'oponopono at this time in my life. Right now as I lie in bed in the early morning hours, I use it - for 3 weeks now - to transmute the energy in a long standing, emotionally difficult relationship. Learning to take 100% for this and use the cleaning techniques is helping more than I initially thought possible. Many small and beautiful miracles are happening in my everyday world. I love you Mornnah, Dr.'s Vitale and Len for bringing ho'oponopono to humanity.

This book has an interesting concept, one I hadn't encountered before, as a path to your source, to the divine. Other techniques with the purpose of leading you to similar territory are things like Buddhist meditation and EFT (Emotional Freedom Technique), to name a couple. An Hawaiian psychologist apparently healed a whole ward of criminally insane patients using this technique without ever having therapy sessions with any of them. This method, called Ho'oponopono, is about taking 100% responsibility for everything you encounter in your life, healing it in yourself which supposedly can also heal it in those that you encounter. This is a very intriguing concept and beautiful in its simplicity. I gave the book three stars only because it's not completely clear how to practice this technique from reading the book. The author expresses much confusion about being able to come to terms with understanding the technique himself. So he can imagine how we must feel. Sounds like to get full understanding of the technique you have to take one of the seminars, a fairly pricey option from what I can tell. The book is worth reading, nonetheless.

I've read other reviews that said this book was nothing but Joe Vitale's self-promotional advertisement for his numerous websites and other books. I thought they were exaggerating (or at least exaggerating at least a little bit). They weren't! The book is a total hunk of junk! I DO believe in Ho'oponopono so I'm definitely NOT trashing this book due to lack of belief...I'm trashing it because the book tells absolutely ZERO useful information (except where to go in order to buy other stuff from Joe Vitale). His many websites are all "How to Get Rich..." type of sites. This book is just another avenue to make Mr. Vitale rich. Also, this book and "The Easiest Way" (by Mabel Katz) rely EXCLUSIVELY on ONE example of Ho'oponopono performed by Dr. Hew Len to document that Ho'oponopono actually works. Both authors keep going back to that one single example...and absolutely NOTHING else. It's as if Dr. Len's experience in the mental institute is the only instance that Ho'oponopono has ever worked (which might actually be the case?). You will not learn how to do Ho'oponopono from this book and so don't waste your time or money on this book hoping that it will. If I haven't said it enough already -- don't waste a single penny buying this book and hope to gain anything useful (except for URLs to "How to Get Rich..." type of websites)!! You have been warned.

I learned about ho'oponopono from a friend over a year ago and learned more from YouTube. I bought this book to learn more and it was a total waste of money but is making Joe Vitale rich. It was nothing more than a string of advertisements for his products. Joe Vitale has a huge ego and I was totally disappointed that Dr. Hew Len approved of this book. I hope these bad reviews make Dr. Hew Len see the light. Save your money Joe doesn't need any more.

This book is a total waste of time, said nothing the whole way through. If I could have learned anything well that would worth the cost. Joe Vitale, shame on you for making money on trash like this, if ripping people off through products like this is ok with you, then that shows what an clueless man you are. The only reason it got 1 star is because you can't get lower than that.

This was my first book on the subject and I recognized his name, so I purchased it. I wished i had looked more. this book is FULL of Mr. Vitale's marketing and ego. He even states that he was called the J man of business! J man meaning Jesus!!!Who claims this????The info is simple, so why does he promote his other books so much?Move on, there are other books with the same info and less or zero self promotion.

I've read many books on the Law of Attraction. Many offer the concept that we each create our own reality. This always bothered me. If I create my own reality, why is it so flawed? I always wondered why I would have created my own reality to include a world with so many problem - massive problems like poverty and violence - whether I'm directly affected by such things or not. None of the books I read ever answered this question - until now. In ZeroLimits, Joe Vitale introduced me to Ho'oponopono. I'd heard about the book and about this Hawaiian philosophy for some months before I became interested in reading about it. I liked most of Vitale's other books, and this one seemed to offer something extra - so I read it. I'm glad I did. Finally I got an answer to my question. As I understand Ho'oponopono (and my understanding is elementary) I am 100% responsible for my reality. Any problems I encounter or become aware of exist simply because of flawed memories from my personal history, my genetic heritage, and my past lives - memories I am not even consciously aware of - but have somehow brought forward to this point in time to be forgiven, cleaned, and erased, so that I can know greater harmony and peace with life, others, myself, and the universe. The book gives a simple four-step formula for cleaning and erasing those memories. I also enjoyed the story about Joe's personal journey in finding Dr. Hew Len and learning about Ho'oponopono. I still have a few remaining questions - but then I'd have to learn more about Ho'oponopono to find the answers.
